WHAT HAPPENS IF RUTH ASSET MANAGEMENT SICAV IS UNABLE TO PAY OUT?

Each fund must have a dedicated depositary to take care of the safekeeping of the sub-fund's assets. There is a potential default risk if the assets of the sub-fund held with the depositary are lost. However, such default risk is limited due to the segregation of assets between those of the depositary and the sub-fund. The depositary is liable to the sub-fund or to the investors of the sub-fund for the loss by the depositary or one of its delegates of a financial instrument held in custody unless the depositary can prove that the loss has arisen as a result of an external event beyond its reasonable control. For all other losses, the depositary is liable in case of its negligent or intention failure to properly fulfil its obligations pursuant to the Luxembourg law of 17 December 2010 relating to undertakings for collective investment. There is no other compensation or guarantee scheme for investors in the sub-fund.

The person advising you on or selling the product may charge additional fees. If that is the case, they must inform you about these costs and how they affect your investment. If the sub-fund is included as part of another product, for example an investment insurance, other fees may apply for that product.
